Perhaps, therefore, the big bone-rusher Golith steps out thoughts inevitably resolve themselves at last present opposition to snooping questions in the from his mob and says he can make into Job's poignant question.

That question has been answered. But the answer did not come from the scientists or the philosophers, the sophists or the logicians. It came from a Man in far-off Palestine more in Newcastle than nineteen hundred years ago, and He framed it in these simple but dynamic words: "Because I live ye shall live also.'

On Sunday, in the churches of Cumberland time and throughout the civilized world and in isoand even on an occasional street corner in a city slum, the sufficiency of His answer-attested through the centuries by incalculable millions—will be reasserted and revivified before a world of dying men.

It is not the whole of the Easter message. The church is not so naive as to hold that the gates of eternal life to those throughout the "The Hound" that runs:

"The Hound" that runs:

"The Hound" that runs: ages who believe in Him.

This, reduced to its simplest terms, is the Easter gospel. It is the answer of religion to man's importunate question about life beyond the grave. It interprets and makes crystal clear the significance of His words, whose rising from the dead is memorialized on Easter: "Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in Me. In My Father's house are many mansions. . . I go to prepare a place for

YOU never see your elbows. Take a look-peek at them. The skin is coarse there, and the friction of sleeves does not improve it. Elbows are inclined to assume a greyness is no beauty bargain.

If this condition exists, cut a lemon in half, plunge the elbow in the pulp and massage with it. Sponge the juice away with clear, tepid water; dry.

Have at hand a tube of toilet lanoline. Apply with the palm of the hand, rubbing 'round and 'round, holding the elbow up so the flesh will be flat and the oil will creep into the little creases. Dust the skin surface with talcum which will unite with the lanoline and form a soothing, whitening pack.

If the beauty budget looks slim and you must do your own hair ringleting, and if you have nightmares whenever you do your tress locks on metal cylinders with clamps, you might take a whirl at the paper curl. You don't need any settling lotion, yet the wave often stays strong for at least a fortnight.

Part the hair across the crown of the head from ear to ear, pinning back the rear portion. Begin at the left side, taking fairly small strands, forming flat ringlets, winding from the ends toward the scalp. Fold each ringlet in a square piece of tissue paper that has been folded cornerwise into a triangle, and pin securely. The hair should be mois they are parted off evenly, you will

Cut a pocket in each pork chop Combine corn with remaining ingredients and mix well. Stuff each chop with the corn mixture and fasten with toothpicks. Melt a little fat in a frying pan and brown chops slowly on both sides, seasouing with salt and pepper. Place browned pork chops on top of potatoes. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) until potatoes are tender, about 1 hour. Yield:

Scalloped Potatoes 5 medium potatoes 1% cups irradiated evaporated milk Liquor from corn plus water to make 1 cup

Pare potatoes and slice thin. Butter a deep baking dish. Place a layer of potatoes on bottom and sprinkle with flour, salt and pepper. Repeat. Mix milk and liquor from corn and pour over all. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) until potatoes are tender, about 1 hour.

Stuffed Pork Chops with Scalloped Potatoes is a nourishing as well as delicious one-dish meal. By using double-rich irradiated evaporated milk, it is possible to tuck extra milk solids in both the stuffing and the scalloped potatoes.

EVEN AFTER Jesus was crucified and put in the tomb, the high priests and Pharisees were not content. They must have known in their hearts that it was no ordinary man whom they had crucified. They came together before Pilate and asked him to see that they had an adequate guard set about Jesus' tomb, as "we remember the deceiver said, while He was yet alive, After three days I will rise again." Pilate evidently had but little patience with them, for he answered them shortly, "Ye have a watch: go your way, make it as sure as ye So the tomb was sealed and the

Triumph Over Death

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

The day after Jesus' crucifixion the chief priests and Pharisees went to Pilate and asked him for a special guard for the tomb for, they said, He has said, 'After three days I rise again." Pilate told them to use the guard and seal the tomb, which they did.

Early on the morning of Sunday, after the Jewish Sabbath, the two Marys, Mary Magdalene and the mother of James and Joseph, went to the tomb with spices to annoint the body of their Lord, but an earthquake had rolled away the stone, and an angel told them Jesus

The women "departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring His disciples word," says Matthew, As they went, behold Jesus met them, saying, "All Hail." And they came and held Him by the feet and worshipped Him.

The guards, having been rendered dead" by the earthquake, ran to chief priests and told them, asking w they should do. They were given me and told to say the disciples stole body while the guards slept. (GOLDEN TEXT-I Cor. 15:20)

Feeding Lawn Trees Mature trees planted in the average lawn area usually require adlitional plant food every two or three years. This is due to the fact that the grass robs them of food and moisture. The leaves of trees in such locations are always immediately raked up and disposed of, and not allowed to remain and rot thus forming a humus which n turn would help to feed the Manure, properly applied, is an excellent food for a mature tree. The proper method of applying a feeding of manure around a tree : shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. In a circle starting about three feet beyond the tre trunk, remove a strip of sod extending to the circle formed by the outer spread of the tree's branches On the area from which the sod has been removed, spread a threeinch layer of well-rotted manure as shown in the illustration. Next, dig the manure into the soil. Level off the area, firm it well, and re-

Healthy, vigorous trees are much nore beautiful in appearance than half-starved ones, and are better able to withstand summer droughts and winter cold.

Canna roots can be started indoors in boxes of loam. In this way they will make more headway than if held until the weather permits outdoor planting in the open ground. After planting in a box

Six Candidates Seek Election To Council

Donald P. Whitworth Is Unopposed for Re-election as Mayor

Westernport, March 22. -- The Westernport town election will be held Monday with Mayor Donald P. Whitworth being unopposed for re-election while six candidates are seeking the four council seats.

At a special meeting of the Mayor and Commissioners of the town held! this afternoon to pass on petitions of candidates who sought places on the ballot two names were rejected and two were ordered printed on the election ballot,

Those seeking council seats are: Incumbents-Aden Campbell,

J. P. Dye, John McGuigan and Thomas White Other candidates - Walter

Whitfield and Reuel C. Roberts,

The Council rejected the petitions of Carl A. Bowman and Edward Moran and accepted those of Walter Whitfield and Reuel C. Roberts. The four petitions were filed together just before the "deadline" for candidates to file.

Town Attorney H. P. Whitworth was asked to rule on the petitions and he ruled that Mr. Brown was disqualified because his property assessments on the town tax books were insufficient. Whitworth pointed out that while Bowman was assessed in excess of the $250 required by law that this was intangible and intangible property, but that a ruling of the 1939 legislature "expressly wiped out for taxation purposes all intangible property" which he said was the great-

TEIN—George Washington, beloved hus-band of Eva J. Stein, died eight years ago today, aged 29 years.

I've listened for your footsteps.
Down through the empty years.
I've looked for your beloved face.
Through silent bitter tears:
I've even searched for something.
To ease the hurting pain,
That ever grows within my heart.
Until we meet again.
The world is such an empty piace.
For everywhere I see,
Things that you loved,
And use to share with me.
